

there. That's not what it's about. To me, it's about I know where I can put something and it gets out there, and you're helping someone. It goes back to giving back. The littlest thing can mean so much to somebody. If it's that family, if it's that crew person at the restaurant, it might be that gentleman at the gas station you see everyday. On and on . . . I think it's the biggest reward is if it's Christmas and it's breakfast with Santa and there's children, seeing those kids smile . . . I'm touched, man. That's it right there. And watching kids grow up."

Bob then stated, "'The successes and rewards are not always measured in money. There are people in East Kentucky that are as close as family. They are family—extended family here in the hills.'" The two brothers then took a moment to reflect on what it is like to work as partners in their business endeavors.

"It's very unique," said Tom, "to be in a partnership for that many years, but then it's unique added to it to be in partnership with your brother for all of those years. We are totally like night and day. Ask any of our crew. But that's part of it. I respect Bob's forte, he respects mine, but do we always agree? No. But when we sit down at a table and we have a discussion, it may not be what I sat down at the table and wanted or thought was best, but when we walk away, we're on the same mission. What is the result we want? We talk it out. It's about communication, cooperation and coordination."

"If we really hit head to head, then we do paper, scissors, rock," joked Tom.

Bob stated, "My strong points might be his weak points. His strong points might be my weak points. However, through osmosis over the years we've been able to balance each other."

"I'm a very diplomatic guy," Bob continued. "Tom likes to put a lot of bling in stuff. Tom likes to make stuff look nice. There's really nothing wrong with it, but we've went head-to-head on some of the remodels that we've done. Before, when we were allowed the luxury of picking out nice lights and nice wallpaper or quality seating, and he wanted to do things . . . we went into a boxing match over that one. I said, 'Do whatever you'd like, but keep in mind that I've got the budget.'"

LEAVING THE BUSINESS

The decision to move on from McDonald's, the brothers said, was linked to the death of their older brother at 70.

"Bob and I reflected on the passing of our older brother and thought when is the right time?" Tom said. "I don't know if there is a right time, but we did make a plan and so we made the availability. What was nice is that some of the perimeters we had set were like 'Who's going to come in and represent and take care of our people? Who would take care of our guests? Who is going to best reflect what we've laid a great foundation out for?' It was about finding the right team, family or person who had the same beliefs and was going to keep our company intact."

For Bob and Tom, the Faris family was the perfect fit for continuing their legacy.

Bob stated, "It was an easy decision. We've had five or six people approach us over the last couple of years without even putting a sign out. It was really easy when we saw who they (the Faris family) are personally and professionally. We knew who to sell it to. They're people-oriented."

Tom echoed the sentiment, stating, "The Farises, what they had to offer us and what they had to offer the team, I want to say that we are like book ends. Bob, Tom and the Faris family. Same core beliefs. That's what felt good."

"I wouldn't be surprised one bit if they make this organization better than it already is," said Bob.

The two brothers plan to remain in Eastern Kentucky and continue making a difference in their communities.

Tom stated, "'What's most important is that Bob and I came here almost 42 years ago to go into business. We had the opportunity to leave many times, to relocate. But we chose to stay because the mountains spoke to us and there's a lot of opportunity here. We've seen a lot of opportunity here—but the people. The people in the communities and the people that were with us in our organization—our company was really powered by people with pride and we knew we had everything we ever set out for and that we could begin and continue our foundation by staying here in Eastern Kentucky, where we chose to make our home. We're still in the community. We'll still be engrained in many things in the community. We are not leaving or abandoning, we are just taking ourselves to the next level."

Bob stated, "We will be here, we will be active, we will be involved and the thing that's keeping us here is the people—the people in the mountains. People here have been great—we've been able to help a lot of people, but there's a lot of people that have been able to help us."

Tom said the brothers are simply opening another chapter in their lives.

"We walked in together, and we're walking out together," he said. "It's a beautiful scenery."

TRIBUTE TO LAMAR ALEXANDER

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I would like to take a moment to recognize and thank the chair of the Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee and Senator from Tennessee, LAMAR ALEXANDER. Senator ALEXANDER has committed his life to public service for both the people of Tennessee and Nation. He served first as the Governor of Tennessee, then as the Secretary of Education under President George H. W. Bush from 1991 to 1993, and finally in the U.S. Senate since 2003. Senator ALEXANDER has served more years as Governor and U.S. Senator than any other Tennessean who has occupied both positions. It has been an Honor to serve with Senator ALEXANDER over the past 4 years.

As chair of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee, Senator ALEXANDER dedicated the end of his Senate career to issues such as the opioid epidemic, supporting mental health providers, lowering prescription drug prices, and cultivating innovation in the medical field, just to name a few. During his tenure as chair Senator ALEXANDER presided over more than 70 hearings and oversaw more than 45 bills that eventually became law.

Senator ALEXANDER has dedicated his career to faithfully representing the people of our great country, believing that "the best decisions are made by those closest to the people." Thank you, again, to Senator ALEXANDER. I wish him a long and peaceful retirement, playing piano and spending time with his wife, Honey, their children and grandchildren, and dog, Rufus.

Ms. SMITH. Mr. President, I am honored to pay tribute to my colleague, Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER. When speaking about the Senate, Senator ALEXANDER often says, "It's hard to get here, it's hard to stay here, and while you're here, you might as well try to accomplish something good for the country." Over his 18 years in this institution, he has embodied those words and has served as a guiding force of principle and bipartisanship.

Under his 6 years of leadership as chair, the Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee reported 45 bills that became law. It is a shining example of his commitment to working together and finding resolution on issues that directly impact Americans' lives. As a member of the HELP Committee, I am thankful to have had the opportunity to work with Senator ALEXANDER on some of these bills, such as the Opioid Crisis Response Act of 2018 and the reauthorization of the Perkins Career and Technical Education law, among others. I am also thankful for Chair ALEXANDER'S, as well as Ranking Member PATTY MURRAY'S, support for my work to lower the cost of prescription drugs and improve access to mental health services.

When I came to the Senate in 2018, Senator ALEXANDER welcomed me as a colleague and friend, for which I will always be grateful. While I will miss his esteemed, bipartisan leadership, both on the HELP Committee and in the Senate, I am grateful for his service to our country and wish him and Honey the best in their next chapter.

Ms. ROSEN. Mr. President, I would like to take this time to honor Senator LAMAR ALEXANDER. Over the past 30 years, Senator ALEXANDER has served the people of Tennessee as U.S. Senator, Governor, and U.S. Secretary of Education under President George H.W. Bush. Over the past 2 years, however, he has also been a great friend to a freshman Senator from Nevada who came from a different political party but shared his desire to get things done for the American people. Like so many in this Chamber, I will miss this dedicated public servant who sought to find common ground on the many pressing issues facing the Senate, including healthcare, education, and medical research.

Senator ALEXANDER has been a great mentor and colleague of mine in the Senate. I was grateful for how gracious he was when I first came to the Senate and for his willingness to engage me on the key issues facing Congress. As chairman of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee, of which I am proud to be a member, Senator ALEXANDER worked tirelessly on important issues like increasing access to telehealth services, lowering health care costs, making it easier to apply for student financial aid, and advocating for our seniors. I particularly appreciated the work he did to support the fight against Alzheimer's disease and ensure we invest in robust funding for medical research.

Especially this past year during these unprecedented times, the American people needed bipartisan work and leadership from its public officials in getting relief to struggling communities across the country. Senator ALEXANDER'S direction and leadership through debates and negotiations brought out the best in him this year, as it has in the past, evident both in how he treats people with dignity and respect and in his unwavering dedication to public service.

Not only will we miss Senator ALEXANDER'S presence in this Chamber, but we will also miss his beautiful piano skills during the holiday season. I hope he will have the opportunity to come back to the Senate Hart Building and play for us again soon. I promise I will be there in the front row.

Senator ALEXANDER, I wish you the best in the next chapter of your life and hope you have a wonderful retirement after your long and impactful career.

TRIBUTE TO PAT ROBERTS

Ms. STABENOW. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to someone who is more than just a colleague. He is more than just a friend. In fact, he has been a true partner here in the Senate, and that has paid huge dividends for farmers, families, and communities across our country.

PAT ROBERTS has been here in the Senate for a long time. Some might even call him an institution. At a recent Ag Committee event, I joked that, as a young man, he advised George Washington on farm policy. That might be a bit of an exaggeration, but his legacy can hardly be overstated. He has left a lasting imprint on farm and food policy in this country. He is the only person to have written a farm bill as both the chair of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees.

Those of us who have had the honor of serving alongside PAT on the Senate Agriculture Committee know there is no other place quite like it. It is a place where we leave politics at the door and focus on the ways we can improve people's lives and livelihoods in rural America. We do that because we know agriculture isn't a red issue or a blue issue. Agriculture and food policy affect everyone. And nobody knows that better than PAT.

Senator ROBERTS and I never gave up on passing the 2018 farm bill even when it got tough. At the beginning of negotiations, we made a commitment to work together. We visited each other's home States—twice, in fact. I arrived in "The Little Apple" of Manhattan, KS, wearing K-State purple. A few weeks later, PAT came to Frankenmuth, MI and wore a MSU green tie.

Around this time, we also made a commitment to each other to write a bipartisan farm bill. Throughout the entire process, I never doubted that PAT had my back—even when negotiations got tough. Thanks to this partnership, we achieved the most bipartisan bill in history.

We first passed our Senate bill by 86 votes, but that wasn't enough. We decided to beat that record and passed the final farm bill by 87 votes, the most yes votes ever. We were able to do that because we have a unique partnership built on trust and mutual respect. And the outcome was a strong, bipartisan bill that provided certainty for all farmers, from wheat farmers in Kansas to cherry growers in Michigan. Part of that certainty is Federal crop insurance—and nobody deserves more credit for the foundation of that important safety net program than Senator ROBERTS.

PAT is also a champion for food security, agricultural exports, and agricultural research, which is why he and I worked together to establish the Foundation for Food and Agriculture in the 2014 Farm Bill. He also understands the importance of protecting food assistance for children and families. I was honored to share the Food Research and Action Center's Distinguished Service Award with Senator ROBERTS last year for our teamwork.

Above all, it has been an honor working with PAT because he is truly one of a kind. From the moment I met him, it became abundantly clear that he wasn't your run-of-the-mill politician. Some say it is his unflappable nature. Others say it is his unique sense of humor. But to me, PAT ROBERTS is defined by his loyalty, integrity, and dedication to the people of Kansas.

He started his career as a first lieutenant in the Marine Corps. And it is clear he has carried that courage and conviction with him throughout his life. He was also a newspaper reporter, which makes sense when you consider his dogged determination, and, for better or worse, his ability to be exceptionally quotable.

As a public servant, he is so beloved in his home State of Kansas that he never lost an election, a record of 24-0. If only his K-State Wildcats could be so lucky.

Senator PAT ROBERTS, it has been such an honor to be your partner—and an even bigger honor to be your friend. So while your retirement is well earned, you will be deeply missed on the Agriculture Committee and here in the Senate.

Thank you for all you have done for farmers, families, and the American people.

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I would like to recognize and thank the Senator from Kansas, PAT ROBERTS. He has served the people of Kansas and our Nation in Congress for nearly 40 years, serving 16 years in the House of Representatives and in U.S. Senate since 1997. Over the past 4 years, I have had the pleasure of serving with Senator ROBERTS in the Senate, including on the Committee on Rules and Administration and the Finance Committee for the last 2 years.

Senator ROBERTS has been a pragmatic partner on legislation focused on supporting rural hospitals and telehealth access during the pandemic. We introduced the Rural ACO Improvement Act to support rural health care providers as well as the Ensuring Parity in Medicare Advantage for Audio-Only Telehealth Act to protect seniors' access to telehealth visits even when video is not available during the COVID-19 public health emergency. I respect and appreciate Senator ROBERTS'S dedication to these important issues.

Senator ROBERTS has had a long and esteemed tenure in Congress, and his emphasis on working across the aisle can be seen clearly with the record number of votes in favor for the 2018 farm bill. His evident love for his family, rich heritage as a fourth-generation Kansan, and his call for levity and humor in the Senate to ensure bipartisanship will be remembered for years to come. I thank Senator ROBERTS and wish him, his wife Franki, and his family all the best in the coming years.

TRIBUTE TO MICHAEL B. ENZI

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I want to take a moment to recognize and thank the Senator from Wyoming, MIKE ENZI. He has served the State of Wyoming and our Nation for more than 40 years, first as the Mayor of Gillette, then in both chambers of the Wyoming Legislature, and finally in the U.S. Senate since 1997. Over the past 4 years, I have had the pleasure of serving with Senator ENZI in the Senate, including on the Finance Committee for the last 2 years. Together, we introduced the 1921 Silver Dollar Coin Anniversary Act, to celebrate the anniversary of the Peace silver dollar memorializing the end of World War I.

Senator ENZI has had a long and distinguished tenure in the Senate as both the chair and ranking member of the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee and as the chair of the Budget Committee. Across all his legislative efforts, Senator ENZI has remained a staunch advocate of his "80 percent tool"—the belief that we can get a lot done when we can agree on 80 percent of the issues 80 percent of the time. This lesson is one that we all should take to heart as we enter the 117th Congress and the future.

Senator ENZI's legacy and his words of wisdom—do what is right, do your best, treat others as they wish to be treated—will continue to remind us to work hard and serve our constituents to the best of our abilities. I wish him a peaceful retirement fly-fishing on the banks of Wyoming's rivers, and I wish his wife Diana and his family all the best in the next chapter.

TRIBUTE TO JOHNNY ISAKSON

Ms. CORTEZ MASTO. Mr. President, I would like to recognize and thank Senator Johnny Isakson for his service
